Tasks

In preparation for your studies in Health and Social Care and to gain an insight into the subject, we would like you to find an article in the media about care in a health or social care setting. For example: the positive or negative treatment of patients in hospitals or care homes.

You must bring this to your first Health and Social Care lesson and be prepared to discuss how the treatment the patient receives impacts upon them.

We very much look forward to meeting you in September. If you have any questions about the task above or the course, please do not hesitate to contact me at Fakenham Sixth Form using the above email address

Have a great summer!
